

SHARON COYLE

Master in Teaching at the College Level, M. Ed

Sharon Coyle has a master's in teaching at the college level from University of Sherbrooke Performa Master Teachers Program. Recently retired from three decades of teaching English and Humanities at the Cégep de Sept-Îles, she has been a "chargée de cours" in the English Sector of Performa since 2020, the same year she won the Prix de Ministre Paul-Gérin-Lejoie in the category of recognition of teaching excellence (Volet Reconnaissance de l'excellence en enseignement) in a tribute to her ability to share her passion for creativity, collaboration and a long-held enthusiasm for technology, and their potential for enhancing pedagogy, both with her students and her fellow teachers.

Sharon.Coyle@USherbrooke.ca

perform^A UDS